PRICE TWO CENTS

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT EVIDENT IN CITY

Heavy Inbound Mail and Express Begins to Arrive and a Big Rush is Expected Tomorrow.

STORES HAVE BIG BUSINESS

Many Out-of-town Shoppers Are Here to Complete Their Christmas Buying.

Seymour is permeated with the Christmas spirit.

It is evident everywhere—on the street, in the store and in the home.
Conversation is centered on the coming holiday, what it will bring and how it will be spent.

The local stores are in the midst of their annual Christmas rush. Following an unusually big trade last Saturday, the merchants have enjoyed a steady trading. The dealers look for a rush on both Friday and Saturday and the clerks are preparing to accommodate the hundreds of customers who will call just before the season closes to complete their Christmas buying. Hundreds of out-of-town shoppers were here today going from one store to another carrying big arm loads of packages.

The postoffice rush started in earnest today. Up to this time the clerks have been busy taking care of the outgoing mail and only a comparatively small amount of mail for delivery in the city has been received.
But the night trains brought many mail pouches of parcel post packages and the clerks spent the morning sorting it out according to routes in preparation for delivery throughout the city and on the rural routes.

All indications point to the biggest Christmas mail ever received here.
The clerks and carriers look for the bulk of the mail to arrive tonight and tomorrow and see ahead of them two days' of hard work.

Parcel post packages are being delivered by a special carrier. George O. Shank, extra carrier here, is in charge of this department. He started the wagon deliveries Wednesday and will continue them until the Christmas mail is out of the way.
The postoffice will be open from 9 until noon Sunday and mail will be distributed from both the general window and city carriers' windows at that time. Special permission was given by the department to keep the office open three hours Sunday on account of Christmas coming the following day which eliminates one day for delivery. This was deemed necessary to prevent the office from becoming congested and so that patrons of the office could get their Christmas mail before December 25.

The railway mail clerks have no trouble in realizing that the Christmas season is here. The mail cars are piled high with sacks of packages and letters and it is with difficulty that the clerks handle the enormous amount that is delivered to them at each point. Some of the trains are running behind their usual schedules and the delays are due in part to the handling of the mail.

The express companies are also handling an enormous business. Many of the packages received by them are large and bulky and the wagons are on the streets after nightfall delivering as many parcels as possible before the next train arrives.

Many homes in the city will have Christmas trees this year, as evidenced by the large number that are being brought here. There is a big demand for the cedars which range in all sizes from small ones for the table to those that will fill a corner of a room. In many localities in this county cedar trees are found in large numbers and quite a few people make good wages by selling them here.

Our beautiful portable electric stand lamps speak direct to the gift giving nature of Christmas shoppers.

ARGUMENTS POSTPONED IN RUDDICK-ANDERSON CASE

Plaintiff Asks Damages of Local Grain Dealer for Alleged Failure to Fulfill Contract.

The case of Frank Ruddick against G. H. Anderson, a local grain dealer, for $325 damages for alleged failure to fulfill a contract was tried before Judge Oren O. Swails in circuit court today. After the examination of witnesses the attorneys asked for further time to argue the case which request was granted. Ruddick claims that he entered into a contract with the defendant for a certain amount of hominy meal at a specified price and that the defendant failed to deliver the meal in accordance with the contract. Anderson's defense was that the contract specified that the plaintiff should make a deposit on the hominy meal and that he failed to do so and for that reason he refused to fill his order. The arguments in the case will be made later.

Two cases are set for trial Friday. Both are claims against the estate of the late Benjamin Robbins.
One is filed by Frank Brown for $98 and the other by Adeline Brown for $90.

The petit jury has not been called this session and may not be needed until after the first of the year.
Court will adjourn Saturday for the Christmas holiday.

CITY COUNCIL TO MEET LAST NIGHT THIS YEAR

Several Important Matters of Business Expected to be Presented Tonight.

The city council will meet tonight for the last time this year, unless a special session is necessary next week. It is expected that several matters of importance will come before the session tonight. The annual reports of the several departments are in course of preparation but will not be submitted to the council before the first of the year. At the close of each year financial questions arise as bills cannot be contracted when payment must come from the receipts of the coming year.
The county auditor will soon send his warrant to the city treasurer and then the claims of the present year can be settled. At the meeting tonight Chief of Police McCord will file his resignation to take effect the first county sheriff. He will be succeeded of the year when he will become by Charles Wallace, who was recently appointed by Mayor Ross to fill the vacancy.

SUN FAILS TO SHINE ON SHORTEST DAY OF YEAR

Sun Reaches Farthest Point on Its Trip Southward and Again Starts Towards North.

Besides being one of the busiest days of the entire year, today is also the shortest of the year. The sun has reached the farthest point in its trip southward and will soon start swinging back to the north, with the result that the days will be longer and the nights shorter. The longest night has been approaching so gradually, however, that the difference in the length of today would not be noticed unless special attention was called to the fact.

Freight Embargo.

Notice was received at the local office of the B. & O. Southwestern Railroad today that an embargo had been placed on all car load freight excepting live stock and foodstuffs for human consumption, west of Cumberland, Md. It was stated here that the embargo does not affect the Southwestern. The embargo was necessary, it is said, on account of the congestion of cars in some of the terminals.

August Elsner Improving.

August Elsner, who has been ill for several days, is improving at his home east of the city. He is still confined to his bed most of the time but is gaining strength. He was a member of the 32nd. Indiana Regiment during the Civil War and has many friends in this city who will be glad to learn of his improvement.

BOARD URGES NEW HEALTH MEASURE

State Commissioners Advocate Compulsory Health Supervision of School Children.

AMENDMENT IS PROPOSED

Suggestion Also Made that Full Time Health Officers be Employed—Parents' Co-operation.

If a recommendation of the state board of health is approved by the coming legislature, and it is probable that such action will be taken, compulsory health supervision of the school children in this city as well as in all other cities of the state, will be ordered. The state health board is expecting to ask the legislature to amend the present health laws to include such supervision as an added precaution to fight disease, for the creation of a division of child hygiene and the institution of full time health officers. All the proposed amendments have been urged by the board for some time.

School authorities will be authorized, under the proposed amendment, to employ inspectors to look after public school pupils according to rules which shall be adopted from time to time by the state board of health. Two or more school cities may combine in order to lessen the expense of maintaining the inspectors. The salaries of the inspectors will be determined by contract with the school authorities. The inspectors shall be required to pass an examination, mental and physical, given by the state board of health.

The work of health supervision in the schools shall consist of the examination of all pupils. Parents, nurses, dentists, physicians and dispensaries will be called upon to cooperate in seeing to it that the school child shall be made healthy. Backward children will receive special attention. For others physical training and preventive treatments will be used where necessary. The children will be taught hygiene and the care of their bodies.

The health officers, under the proposed plan, will be required to be graduate physicians, with special accomplishments in sanitary science.
They will be required to pass a physical and mental examination given by the board of health. Each officer's salary will be not less than $1,500 a year. "They will be required to be scientists, not politicians," said Dr. Hurty. Such an action, he declared, would be an investment which would yield a hundred fold to the state.

Attention to the health of children under school age will be given through the aid of a child hygiene division. Especial attention will be given to the prenatal phase of rearing healthy children.

CHARITY WORKERS TO MEET TONIGHT

The workers of the City Charity Association will meet tonight to formulate final plans for the distribution of the Christmas baskets to be distributed Saturday. The baskets will be filled with provisions and families that are in need of fuel will be amply provided. Children who would not know the happiness of Christmas Day if it was not for the City Charity Association will also receive toys so that their joy may be complete.

The Christmas Fund today exceeded the $100 mark. The distribution of baskets and toys on next Saturday would have been impossible if it had not been for the generosity of Seymour people. Those who have aided so liberally in this movement can know that their contribution carried happiness into some home that would have been a place of sadness if they had not received assistance. The Charity association is greatly pleased with the general response that was made to its appeal for funds. The number of contributors to this fund is larger than ever before and only on one other year since the movement was inaugurated has the total sum been larger than this year. There are still several days in which to contribute before the fund is closed and it is confidently expected that a still larger amount will be available.

The door receipts at the matinee at the Majestic Theater today will be turned over to the Christmas Fund.
Mrs. Joseph Rottman, a member of the City Association, will be in charge of the box office. W. W.
Eagleston, manager of the Majestic, purchased a ticket to his own theater this afternoon and "forgot to pick up his change" after the small piece of cardboard was handed to him through the window. Quite a few of those who purchased tickets made contributions to the fund. All the receipts will be turned over to the Christmas Fund.

Besides the work of the City Association, baskets will be distributed by the city schools, the Presbyterian Sunday School and the First M. E. Sunday School. The gifts of provisions at the M. E. School were made last Sunday night and during the week and will be distributed by the Mercy and Help Department of the Epworth League. A list of names will be given to each organization by the City Association so that none of the work will be duplicated. The school children are responding to the appeal made to them and it is expected that a substantial amount of cash and a large quantity of provisions will be brought to the various rooms before Friday afternoon. The baskets to be sent out by the schools will be delivered Saturday morning.

The ward superintendents of the City Association will look after all the worthy, needy families in their districts. They will see that each child is given a toy and that families in need of provisions are supplied.
A number of toys have been left at the library during the last few days.
The Association announced that toys in good condition and canned fruit would be very acceptable and could be left at the library basement.
Such contributions are just as good as cash, as they will eliminate the necessity of using the fund for such purchases.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION BILL REPORTED OUT BY COMMITTEE

As Amended it Becomes an "Iron Clad" Dry Measure—Prohibits Manufacture.

By United Press.
Washington, December 21.—The national prohibition bill was reported favorably by the Senate judiciary committee today. The bill as amended by the judiciary committee becomes an iron clad dry measure. As amended the bill prohibits the sale, manufacture or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation into, and the exportation from the United States and all territory subject to its jurisdiction for beverage purposes.

BODY OF ALLEGED ROBBER FOUND NEAR WASHINGTON

J. W. Adams Shot and Killed When Two Men Attempt to Enter Saloon.

By United Press.
Washington, Ind., December 21.— The body of a man was found on a road six miles north of this city today and was identified as one of the two men who last night shot and killed J. W. Adams, when they attempted to rob a Washington saloon.
The man had died from a cut in his throat and police believe he was killed by his companion when he fell exhausted in the flight from Washington after killing Adams.

FEW PARDONS TO BE GIVEN BY GOVERNOR RALSTON

Quarterly Report of Pardon Board Will be Filed with State Executive Late Today.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, December 21.—Indications were today that there would be few Christmas gifts in the way of pardons by Governor Ralston when he received the quarterly report of the state pardon board. The report was expected late today, and it was practically certain that few recommendations would be made. Few, if any, inmates serving life sentences, will be extended clemency.

NOTE REACHES ENGLAND.

Censor, However, is Withholding It from Publication.

By United Press.
London, December 21.—President Wilson's message to the belligerent powers had not been released for publication here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The note had been received at the foreign office, but its contents were not disclosed.

It is apparent from the above dispatch that the British censor is withholding all information concerning the message sent by President Wilson.

By United Press.
New York, December 21.—Three million shares had been sold at 2:58 o'clock this afternoon on the stock exchange, making today the heaviest trading day since 1901.

President Wilson's message to the European nations and Secretary Lansing's statement caused two dis-

WORLD NEUTRALS BEHIND PRESIDENT

Official Washington Anxiously Awaiting First Response to Wilson's Peace Plea.

FIRST FORMAL EFFORT OF U. S.

Believed that President has Assurance His Proposal will be Received in Friendly Spirit.

By United Press.
Washington, December 21.—In making his first formal effort to get a statement of peace terms from warring powers and to involve from the European war means of preventing a similar world tragedy, President Wilson acted with knowledge that other world neutrals would stand behind him, it was stated today.

Official and diplomatic Washington today scarcely recovered from the startling development of his sending a peace note to all countries, awaited with anxiety the first response to the President's suggestion.

The president has made it clear many times that he would make no such move unless he was assured of it definitely accomplished its purpose.

It is assumed he received assurance that such a proposal would not be received in an unfriendly spirit.

Plainly hinting that there is danger of the United States being plunged into the war, Secretary of State Lansing today said this was the real reason behind President Wilson's behind message to the belligerents.

The situation of the United States as a neutral is rapidly becoming intolerable, he said. Therefore the President has demanded a show down.

Lansing said:
"More and more our rights are invaded by the belligerents on both sides so that the situation is becoming increasingly critical. I mean by that that we are growing nearer to the verge of war, and therefore, are entitled to know what each belligerent seeks in order that we can regulate our conduct in the future."

Lansing emphasized positively that the Germany peace proposal and the Lloyd George speech had nothing to do with the Wilson note.

ARGENTINE CERTAIN TO SUPPORT PEACE PLEA

Warmest Approval Given to President Wilson's Proposal to Warring Powers.

By United Press.
Buenos Aires, December 21.— Argentina is certain to support President Wilson's plea for peace. The warmest approval expressed by members of the government here was coupled with the prediction that the whole continent would be a unit in its support of such a step. Officials were swept off their feet with surprise at the note. Informally officials expressed the belief that the President's plea for a definition of the terms for peace on both sides was most timely and seems to have fair prospects of success.

RELEASE OF IRISH REBELS BELIEVED TO BE LIKELY STEP

New British Government May Liberate Revolutionists Recently Imprisoned.

By United Press.
London, December 21.—Release of the majority of the Irish rebels imprisoned after the Irish revolt was believed a step likely to be taken soon by the new government. Persistent rumors of the Irish home rule question have been current and leaders would not be surprised to see leniency exercised in the announcement of the adjustment of the situation.

LOCAL TELEPHONE EXCHANGE HAS BIG CHRISTMAS RUSH

Operators Kept Busy During the Morning Answering City and Rural Calls.

Probably the biggest rush in the history of the local telephone exchange was experienced for more than an hour this morning. From 9:30 until after 10:30 o'clock this morning the switchboard was a net work of cords. This is usually a busy hour of the day, but the number of calls today exceeded all former records. The heavy business was doubtless due to many residents ordering Christmas supplies. The company expects another big rush Friday and on Saturday. During the morning the number of long distance calls was also unusually large. Each time a call is registered a small light is flashed on the switch board and at times the board was spotted. The operators demonstrated their ability to handle the rush and made the connections on the board with remarkable rapidity.

L. C. Griffiths, owner of the local plant, is planning some changes after the first of the year. The rural and long distance switchboards will be removed to another room and the boards now used by these operators will be given over to city service.

FARMERS AROUND ANDERSON FIGHT BOYCOTT METHODS

Will Effect Organization to Protect Themselves in Sale of Butter and Eggs.

By United Press.
Anderson, Ind., December 21.—The ten days boycott of women of Anderson on butter and eggs, which created great resentment among farmers of this vicinity, ended today.

After the boycott was established under the direction of a committee of the Anderson's Women's council, farmers who had been supplying Anderson with food products, talked of establishing a boycott against Anderson business houses.

A meeting was held and the proposition to take butter, eggs and other products to Anderson and refusal to trade with stores in this city, was discussed. The meeting was adjourned without taking any definite action but it was voted to call another gathering in January when a permanent association would be formed to protect farmers against similar boycotts in the future.

Women of the city explained that the boycott was not aimed at the farmers around Anderson but was in sympathy with the national movement against the high price of food stuffs.

Mrs. Elgin Marsh who has been the guest of her sister, Miss Myrtle Bennett, returned this morning to her home in Mitchell.

Mrs. Orville Carter returned to her home in Bedford this morning after a visit with Miss Lovell Botorff.

CHRISTMASTIDE

The origin of Christmas is lost in myth and the customs of primitive peoples. Every nation has kept it since Adam wore fig leaves and laid away a few primitive potatoes after the bread-fruit season was over. The old Norsemen kept a harvest festival that corresponded with our Christmas; the Romans held a mad season of gamboling called the Saturnalia in December; and the ancient Druids kept Yule with sacred rites in their temples.

It was at the time of Saturnalia one year that Joseph of Nazareth journeyed to Jerusalem with Mary, his wife, and in the manger at Bethlehem the Christ child was born. It was not until 70 A. D., however, that the custom of keeping December 25 as the birthday of Christ was established, and it was 200 A. D. before the persecuted few who believed in him dared to celebrate the festival openly.

Among all the symbols of the Christmastide, the mistletoe and the Yule log are especially significant. Both are relics of Druid times. In Britain and the ice-bound firds of the north, the old Druids went out in stately procession to gather in the mistletoe from the fragrant oaks. They called the plant All-heal and laid it upon their altars as a sign of the greatest sacredness. Every year at Yule the procession of all the village went forth, singing hymns, the priests and the heralds that went before them carrying golden sickles and axes to cut the holy plant and bear it back to house and temples in triumph. They little dreamed of the associations which latter day frivolity would attach to the waxy white berries and shining leaves of the mistletoe.

As far back as legend goes it has been the custom in England to save a specially huge log for the Gargantuan grate fires in the feasting hall, and for the servants to drag it in on Christmas eve, when it is lighted with great ceremony. Old prints show curious scenes of master and mistress putting a hand to the ropes and the family jester sitting gaily astride as the Yule log is tumbled into the Hall, while all the servantry stands about respectfully. This custom of bringing in the Yule log has never become strongly established in the United States.

The old merry makings at Yule tide were marked by all kinds of quaint fancies. In Scotland, "Hogmanay" is said to survive at the present day. Three nights before Christmas boys and girls go from house to house crying "Hogmanay!" and soliciting goodies from the housewife.

Among the old English customs was that of giving Christmas candles by the chandlers, while bakers gave to their patrons yule-dows—little cakes with fruit in them. The traditional breakfast was furmity, a kind of porridge with plums in it. At dinner, one ate as much of everything as one possibly could and in the evening, if it were possible to eat anything after the gigantic noon-day feast, furmity again.

The boar's head, borne in on a platter, was the chief feature of the Christmas dinner, but was not by any means the only meat at the dinner. Indeed, one account, enumerating the dishes spread before the guests, mentions among other things, "ducks, geese, tripe, hams, liver, brawn, roast pork, roast beef, sausages, fish, vegetables, preserves, jellies, pies, pastries, and the time-honored English plum pudding." One shudders now, not only at the thought of the groaning, overloaded board, but at the bare suggestion of the grocery bill which such a spread might entail in 1916.

The dinner was followed by nuts and wine and tobacco and Christmas carols. In the villages, outdoor sports, frolics and contests of all kinds were held on the green. Sometimes they elected an Abbott of Unreason, or Lord of Misrule to be their king through the twelve days of the Christmas festivity. The Lord of Misrule's word was law to his riotous followers, and every excess of frivolity had to be tolerated during that season.

As we keep Christmas today it is a cosmopolitan festival. Germany is the source of the Christmas tree, as well as many of the presents usually hung upon it. Belgium originated the custom of hanging the Christmas stocking. And our rosy-cheeked Santa with his reindeer comes direct from Holland. Each one of these institutions has become as real and living to the hearts of Americans as if it were a native product, and there is not one of them with which we would dispense for a moment.

It is hard to believe that Santa Claus and the stockings are Teutonic in origin, for they certainly are nationally American now. "The real issue before the American people today, the issue that cannot be confused by false reasoning or obscured by the hired scribbles of plutocratic tyranny, is 'Is there a Santa Claus?'" And when the masses of liberty-loving people, a vast majority of the people, rise in their might and in their nighties and creep with bare feet into the parlor and see the stockings bulging, they will decide with one voice that there is. They may not put it that way. They may just say: "Oh, look what I got! But it will come to the same thing."

So goes the spirit of Christmas, far more than a harvest feast, far more than the old merry-making, the Christmastide has become at least in America a time of universal good cheer, charitableness and joy in family ties. It is the one day when business and political cares give way to the one all absorbing problem of teaching Bobby how to run his electric train, and when the adjustment of the Star of Bethlehem at just the right angle on the tip of the tree is far more important than the selection of milady's entire winter wardrobe. It is a spirit which can well be carried throughout the year, and all mankind be the happier thereby.

CHRISTMAS

C for the Christ Child, so helpless, so sweet, H for the Holly we lay at His feet.
R for the Riders three, seeking their lord, I for the Incense with which they adored.
S for the Shepherds, who heard angels sing, T for their Triumph in finding the King.
M for all men of peace and good will.
A for the Angels, whose songs the cave fill.
S for the Star which shone out on that night, So radiant so hopeful, so glorious, so bright.

I love little girls and boys,
And I like to bring them candies and toys:
So, sleep sound,
And I'll come around
To leave you a bundle of joys.

WINTER WOODS

"Winter is no less beautiful than other seasons. Changed to be sure, is the face of nature—her greenness is confined to the fields and lichen-covered tree-trunks. In place of the assertive verdure of June there is the prevailing brown. Nature's predominant note in northern latitudes, the color of earth, with its familiar earthy fragrance. This color of earth, so elusive in summer, when its homely scents are lost in the fragrance of the flowers, and its strangely friendly mold labors beneath the foliage of a myriad growths, comes upon us in wintertime with the surprise of revelation. The masses of foliage have been stripped from the branches, and strewn like the fragments of marble around a statue; then rises out of its soft brown carpet in all the unclad majesty of a perfect thing, the leafless tree, intricate yet symmetrical, graceful yet strong, a symbol of beauty.

"This is but one joy of the winter woods; it is the joy in beauty of form. No less beautiful is the color of the woods when the trees are bare. For there the soft browns of the fallen leaves blend with all the more delicate shades of green peculiar to shy mosses and furtive lichens, and the gray distances reveal purple boles and mysterious blue branches, startled by illuminated clusters of yellow fungi. Then do the pines wave dark-plumed heads above limbs of flame, and the white arms of the dancing birch trees glisten in the sun."—Holbrook Jackson.

Graceful Patterns in Hair Ornaments

We use the terms "silver" and "amber" and tortoise shell" quite recklessly in talking of fancy combs and hair ornaments, but we really mean things that look like silver and amber and tortoise shell. Real silver is labeled "sterling," and real amber or shell ornaments are seen so infrequently that it is not often necessary to describe them.

The original patterns of some of our combs and ornamental pins are made of real jewels and other precious things, and the imitations differ so little from them in appearance that the great difference in price is not worth while. These beautiful imitations bring the high art of the jeweler within reach of other people than millionaires.

No less a personage than Madame Flore Revaile of the Russian Ballet is pictured here wearing two of the combs and one of the headbands that are fashionable just now. They adapt themselves to either the high or low coiffure, the combs looking particularly well with a high hair-dress.

The headband shown is of silver set with rhinestones, and it bears a crest at the front of silver filigree, which also sparkles with small brilliants.

Silver and rhinestones have the advantage of other more colorful things, because they look well with hair of any color. Raven locks and those like snow, and all the shades between, are set off by their keen sparkle.

One of the back combs shown is especially good looking with blonde hair. It is of amber and gold tracery, and small inset rhinestones make it a spirited hair ornament. The other is of chased and filigree silver to which rhinestones lend the necessary sparkle. These combs are worn in the hair in many positions.

Margaret Mason's Fashion Letter

(Written for the United Press.)

New York, December 15—Clouds aren't the only things that have silver linings these days. No indeed not if you have noticed the shiny new lingerie. Made of cloth of gold and cloth of silver it is and if you own an under bodice or a combination of this precious sheen you can feel positively that you are up to the last scratch of Fashion. And you probably do too. Petticoats of these shimmering fabrics are dreams of moonbeams and sunbeams elaborately incrustated with gold and silver lace as well. In days of old Kings thought they were going some when they donned suits of gold and silver armour but fashion's queens have certainly gone a few steps further today when they affect lingerie d'or and d'argent.

Entire gowns for evening wear of these precious metalized fabrics are as beautiful as they are popular and Mary Nash in "The Man Who Came Back" is showing a stunning example of a silver cloth one inset with silver lace.

Cloth of gold and cloth of silver slippers have of course become almost too common for words and are bound soon to be only worn by the poor and passe considering the constantly soaring price of calf skin.

Boudoir caps of gold and silver lace and gold and silver tissue also prove that not only plumbing, radiators, munitions and machines may boast metal caps.

Alas, however, they don't act quite the same way and a tired and temperamental lady may never hope to let off steam simply by doffing her boudoir cap of gold.

All gold and silver cloth evening wraps with cape collars and cuffs of fur are gorgeous enough to make King Henry the Eighth and his famous Field of the Cloth of Gold look like a piker.

Fairy fans of gold and silver gauze and gold and silver cobweb lace flutter and twinkle under the artificial lights like so many silvery dew drops or golden fireflies.

One particularly bright, shining and novel fan I discovered in an artistic new shop the other day. It is of humble paper origin but, all beautifully covered with gold leaf, sticks and all. A Chinese hieroglyphic done in a bright blue, green and purple breaks the golden monotony of one of its folds and dangling from its sticks is a silken cord of matching color gray with beads and finished with a festive Chinese tassel or a handy finger ring of jade wherewith to anchor its fluttering beauty ready to its fair owner's hand.

The new oriental Medieval and Byzantine tea gowns and negligees that now have such a royal vogue are of course replete with gold and silver tissues, laces and galloons.

Because of these present precious fabrics, these many metalized modes, divers are the poor swains who go questing the golden girl a la Richard Le Gallienne who are bound to be stung. They will find seeming golden girls on every hand and silver queens as well. But let them beware and remember that a gold wash and a silver plate has a time limit

FOR CHRISTMAS

FROZEN CUSTARD

Material—1 quart milk, 2 eggs, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, flavor to taste.

Utensils—Double boiler, measuring cup, teaspoon, small mixing bowl, eggbeater, ice cream freezer and ice.

Directions—Put the milk on in top of double boiler; when it comes to a boil add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with a little cold milk, sugar and well-beaten eggs. Boil 5 minutes; set aside to cool. Flavor to taste. Pour in freezer, pack with ice and salt and turn 10 minutes. Fruit can be added if desired.

FRUIT AND NUT CAKE

One cupful butter, 2 cupfuls sugar, 4 eggs, 1½ cupfuls milk, 5 cupfuls flour, 1 grated nutmeg, 1 teaspoonful cinnamon, 2 cupfuls chopped walnut meats, 2 cupfuls seeded halved raisins, 2 cupfuls cleaned currants, 1½ teaspoonfuls baking powder.

Cream the butter and sugar and then beat in the eggs one at a time; mix together the flour, baking powder, spices, nuts, and fruit, add a little of this to the first mixture, and the remainder alternately with the milk. Bake an hour and a half in a slow oven. This makes two good sized loaves.

HEART CAKES

Beat half a cup of butter to a cream; gradually beat in half cup of sugar, one egg, beaten light, one-third a cup of milk and two cups of flour, sifted again with one-fourth teaspoonful of mace and two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. More flour may be needed. Knead slightly, roll into a sheet, cut into heart shapes and set in baking pan; brush with cold water, set half teaspoonful of the jelly from a glass of orange marmalade on the center of each, sprinkle thickly with coarse chopped almonds and let bake to a delicate amber shade.

CAULIFLOWER

Remove the leaves from one head of cauliflower, place in sauce-pan stem end down, cover with boiling water, add one teaspoonful of salt and boil, uncovered, thirty-five minutes. Drain, place in tureen and cover with sauce.

Sauce—Put one tablespoonful of butter into saucepan; when melted add one tablespoonful of flour; mix well and add a cup of cold milk slowly, stirring until smooth and creamy; then add the juice of half a lemon.

POTATO PUFFS

Eight medium sized potatoes, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of white pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely cut parsley and two teaspoonfuls of butter. Wash and boil the potatoes twenty minutes. Drain when cool, skin and mash; add the salt, pepper, parsley and one teaspoonful of butter; mix well and beat until light. The other teaspoonful of butter you may use to brush the small pans in which the puffs are baked, or you may brush a bake pan and bake all in one large puff. This amount makes six large individual puffs or one small bake pan.

MINCE PIE

Sift one and one-half cupfuls of flour and one-half teaspoonful of salt into a bowl, add one tablespoonful of lard and rub in very lightly; add just enough cold water to hold together. Take half out on floured bake board, roll thin, line bottom of pie tin, which has been dusted with flour; put in two cupfuls of mince-meat, or you can make the pie as thick as you want. Roll out the other half of the dough and cover the pie. Brush the top with a little cold milk. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

CREOLE SWEET POTATOES

The potatoes should be washed and boiled with the skins on until they are nearly done and then peeled. They should be sliced lengthwise, not too thin, and fried in butter and then sprinkled with brown sugar, maple sugar, shaved thin, or molasses. They can be cooked sometime before they are needed and kept warm in a warming oven. It is not the ingredients used in the creole preparation of sweet potatoes so much as the careful cooking that makes them famous.

GRAPEFRUIT COCKTAIL

Allow one-half grapefruit for each person. Cut in half, then with a sharp pointed knife cut around the pulp in each section and remove each piece of pulp intact to the glass. Serve plain or as the cocktail is sent to the table sprinkle with one teaspoonful of pulverized sugar. A maraschino cherry may be added either in the bottom or on top of the grapefruit.

CRANBERRY AND ORANGE COCKTAIL

Put one-half cupful sugar and one cupful water on and boil five minutes; add one-half cupful cranberry sauce and cool. Chop the oranges very fine, pour into ice cream glass or tall cock-tail glass and pour over the cranberry. This must be served very cold. Cranberries are taken from the cranberry sauce.

SMOTHERED MUSHROOMS

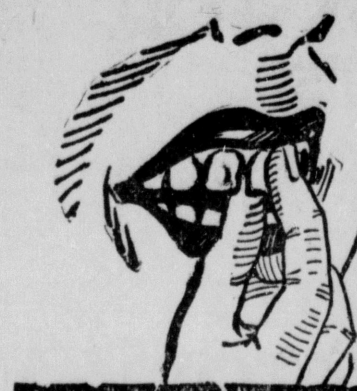

Slowly brown butter until it is almost black. Into this place the mushrooms. Cover with a lid and let them slowly cook until tender.

Of White and Black Fox

White fox has been favored as the most beautiful of furs for youthful wearers. It has been made up in every conceivable way and appears this season in combination with black fox and other dark furs. A very handsome set is shown in the picture, in which the dark fur is used in bandings on the muff.

Neckpieces are intricate and muffs are made in several shapes. The most is made of the pelts, which are spread out flat and lined with satin for the scarfs.

Escape TOOTH Troubles

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present. HOW GOOD THAT MUSTEROLE FEELS!

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-a-h! That's delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home simples.

It does the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster, minus the plaster and minus the blister!

You simply rub Musterole on the spot where the pain is—rub it on briskly—and usually the pain is gone.

No muss, no bother. Just comforting, soothing relief—first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all, no blisters like the old-fashioned mustard plaster used to make.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

W. L. Clark, manager of the Bevin's Plumbing Co., has received word from the Central Foundries Co., of New York, that a photograph recently submitted by him showing the disastrous results of roots growing into tiles had been awarded third prize of $15 in a contest in which plumbers from all over the country were entered. The prizes were offered by a group of the largest soil pipe manufacturers in the country, and the photographs will be used in carrying on a national advertising campaign for the soil pipe which they manufacture. The photograph was made in the yard at the residence of S. A. Rogers, on Ewing street.

Good Christmas Motto.

"Peace on earth, and good will to men," is the Christmas motto, and the Christmas spirit should ring in our hearts and find a kindly expression in acts and words. What a joyful thing for the world it would be if the Christmas spirit of peace and good will could abide with us all every day of the year. And what a beautiful place this world would be to live in. And it might be so if each one of us would resolve in our hearts that peace and good will should be our motto every day, and that we, individually, would do our best to make the Christmas spirit last all the year round.

SERVICE MORE THAN GIVING

Deepest Spirit of Christmas Does Not Confine Itself to One Day, but Is Manifest Entire Year.

The deepest spirit of the Christmas outpouring that flows over the Christian world is the impulse for human service that runs through the whole year.

It is easy to give recklessly out of one's abundance, or even to share carefully one's pittance. The distribution of Christmas dinners through hundreds of self-denying families means a day's happiness for the giver and receiver. But it is greater happiness to both to follow through the year with aid to self-dependence, encouragement to hope, and support in striving for better living.

This is the giving of self, and they who know how to give of themselves wisely are the highest givers. The best feature of Christmas is its material expression of a whole year of human service that runs like a thread through human lives.

Only these holiday glimpses reveal to the careless how many are dedicated to a share in this unobtrusive service to the humbly striving and to the uncomplaining needy; how many families are under constant stimulus to the best sort of self-help; how many children are being quietly led to a higher level of living and striving for themselves between Christmas and Christmas.
